Biography for Terrie Ellis:

My name is Terrie Ellis and I am the owner of Little Dude Ranch Academy located in West Palm Beach. I have owned the Preschool for 7 years and have a licensed capacity of 180 children. I provide childcare for school readiness children (55%), VPK (5 classes) and have a large after-school program (approximately 60 children). The Preschool is APPLE accredited and has participated in the Quality Program in Palm Beach County for 6 years. I am knowledgeable on most issues affecting our industry and have a good understanding of the agencies involved in our business. I regularly attend the Early Learning Coalition (ELC) Board meetings as a member of the public and am familiar with many of the issues that are currently being discussed by the ELC.

I am currently an officer on the Board of Directors for the Palm Beach County Child Care Director's Association (PBCCDA), and have their endorsement as the provider representative for this ELC position. I intend to bring the interests and concerns of private providers to the ELC as well as keep providers informed on issues and decisions that are being made at the ELC meetings. Keep in mind, the ELC administers all the VPK and school-readiness programs/contracts through Family Central, Inc. and it is important we providers have a representative who is involved and understands the issues that affect our business interests as well as the children.

Prior to purchasing the Preschool, I worked for FPL for 12 years in various capacities of Management. During those years, I managed the recruiting department, environmental compliance department, and power plant construction. I worked closely with the regulatory agencies as well as the Public Service Commission. I feel this experience with outside agencies will be useful if I am elected to the position of Provider Representative on the ELC.

Additionally, I have a Bachelor's Degree in Finance (Kent State University) and an MBA (Florida Atlantic University). I have 2 daughters and strongly believe in the continued pursuit of excellence in early child care.
